FLOW

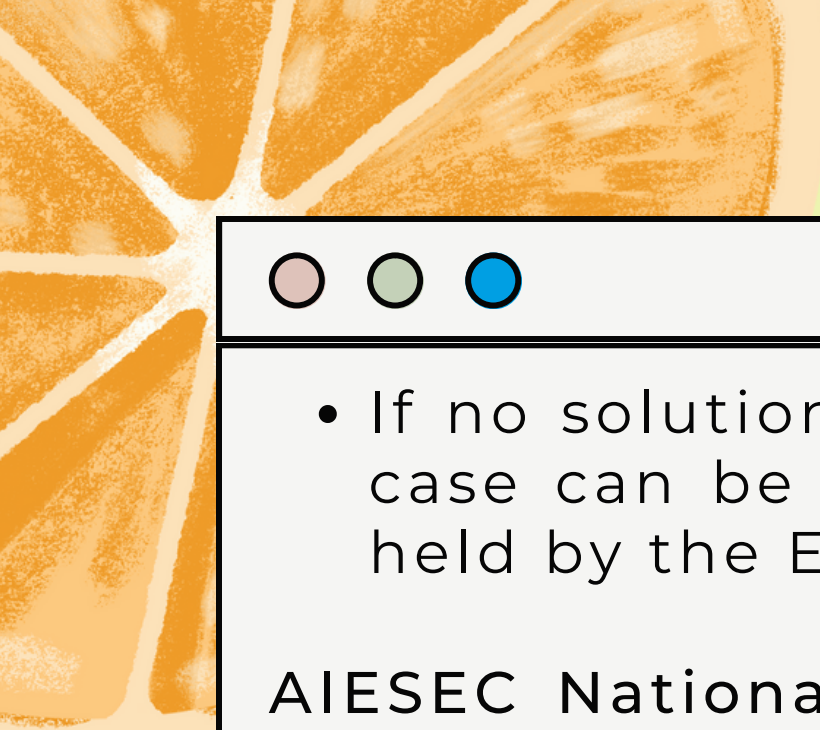

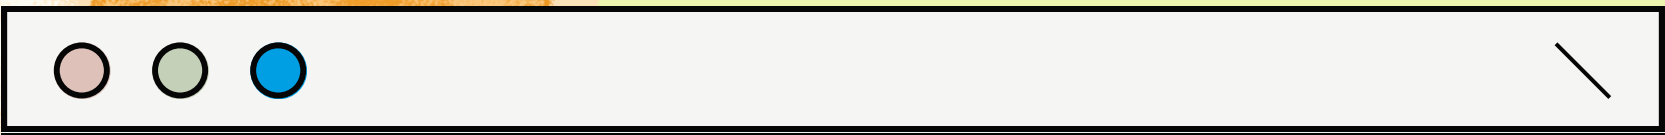

General Complaint & Case Solving Flow

- To raise an issue regarding AIESEC Exchange Programs, any party must follow the dispute resolution process in the order outlined in this session.
- The Dispute resolution process can be requested by any Exchange Participant (EP) or Opportunity Provider (OP), for claims that will be evaluated based on the AIESEC Exchange Program Policies.

AIESEC Local Committee Case Solving Stage - LC to LC

- First Phase: The Complaint party contacts the AIESEC Respondent party stating the issue that is being raised for a resolution, with at least a proposal of solution for the complaint, respecting the AIESEC Exchange Program Policies (AEPP).
- The Response party should respond to the Complaint party and acknowledge the issue within 24 hours.
- Second Phase: The Respondent party should present a Solution Proposal for the Complaint party.
- The Complaint party should accept or reject the proposal within forty-eight (48) hours in a written format.
- If the solution is accepted, the case is closed. Both AIESEC entities are responsible to follow up with the implementation.
- If the solution is rejected, the Complaint party can propose another solution for the Response party.
- If no solution was presented after seventy-two (72) hours from the first contact, it is advised to contact the Response party stakeholders such as the LCP and / or the MC

- If no solution is found within 3 days, the case can be raised to the national level, held by the Entity Control Board (ECB).

AIESEC National Case Solving Stage - ECB to ECB

- First Phase: If the LC stage has met no agreement, the Claiming ECB should loop Respondent party ECB in an official email with case current state, proof and claims, and current proposals for resolution.
- Respondent ECB replies within forty-eight (48) hours to analyze the case, go through the proof and also contact the LC against whom the case is filed.
- Second Phase: Complaining ECB to reply to Respondent ECB in the next forty-eight (48) hours with their response after analyzing the case and proposal.
- ECB-ECB negotiations may not exceed ninety-six (96) hours but only in extraordinary cases.
- If the parties involved can not reach a mutual agreement by the end of the ECB stage, the claiming entity is advised to bring forth the situation to ICB, to proceed with the Official Case Application Stage.
- If the parties were able to find an agreement, the solution should be formalized in the written format for the case to be closed. Both ECBs are responsible to follow up with implementation.
- Once the case is closed and formalized with a written format, it cannot be reopened.

AIESEC International Control Board - Official Case Application (OCA)

- Any Exchange Participant (EP) and the Opportunity Provider (OP) can contact the International Control Board by sending an email.
- After the International Control Board (ICB) confirms the process of the case, a solution should be provided within ten (10) days.
- The International Control Board (ICB) is the last instance of any quality case involving Exchange Participants and or Opportunity Providers in AIESEC exchanges.
- To proceed with the OCA, the complaint entity needs to fill the OCA template, Annex 5, while the ECB chair makes sure all proofs and claims are correct and valid.
- After receiving the email, ICB accepts/rejects the case in a maximum of forty-eight (48) hours.
- If accepted formally by email, the respondent entity has five (5) days to send an Official Case Response.
- ICB sends out the solution within five (5) days from the day of ICB confirmation of receiving the final OCA file by both parties.
- ICB will recommend both entities to write and submit one (1) apology letter from each side, if it applies, for the customer involved in the case.
- If the ICB solution involves financial compensation, the entity who lost the case has a maximum of 6 months to pay at least 50% of the total amount for the EP, and a maximum of 12 months to conclude the payment of the total amount.
- ICB is the final responsible to define the total amount of reimbursements.

Official Appealing

- An appeal is a procedure where an Entity can reopen an existing Official Case Solution proposed previously by ICB to change the outcome of the case.
- An appeal is not a second chance to win a case, it is only aimed at studying new inputs to the case that might change the final outcome.
- An appeal may happen only when a new claim, new proof and or new input that was not submitted, evaluated or mentioned in the Official Case Application.

AUDIT

SYSTEM

AND

COMPLIANCE

MATRIX

Audit system and Compliance Matrix

Audit System

- The audit system is an internal mandatory process in order to ensure all operations are run in accordance with the APIP, Code of Ethics and Exchange Standards. There are two levels of audit; National level, performed by the ICB and Local level, performed by the ECB teams.

ICB System

- The audit can be performed virtually or physically. The type of audit to be conducted is defined by the ICB Audit and Compliance Team Leader. They may include:
- Interviews, surveys or simple email conversations with local and national AIESEC representatives, EPs, Hosts and or OPs and documents check

ICB Audit Funnel

- Phase 0: ICB audits the proofs submitted by all entities related to the violations considered level 4 and 5. If an entity does not deliver a required document it will come under straight violation.
- Phase 1: ICB conducts qualitative analysis of the ECB Audit Reports received and defines a score for each one.
- Phase 2: ICB ranks the entities based on the score to define the entities to virtually audit and the objectives of each audit.
- Phase 3: ICB initiates the virtual audit process. For operational areas (GV OGX/ICX, GTa/e OGX/ICX).
- Phase 4: ICB reveals in a final report the results of the audit process to the involved entities. Physical audits to be performed in the entity by ICB representatives.

ECB System

- Every entity must have an audit system in place. The responsibility to perform the audit at the local level is the ECB team. The audit can be performed virtually and or physically.
- The ECB team must perform the audit in all the Local Committees a minimum of 4 times per year. The ECB Chair must report to ICB the result of the audit quarterly following the ICB timeline:
 1. Quarter 1: until 21st of April
 2. Quarter 2: until 21st of July
 3. Quarter 3: until 21st of October
 4. Quarter 4: until 21st of January
- The ECB Chair must report the LC's compliance to the APIP at least once per semester, with a formal report sent to the LCPs and MC. The ECB Chair is responsible to apply the sanctions related to the violations mapped on the compliance matrix.

Compliance Matrix

- The compliance matrix is an internal control system that contains possible violations of AIESEC Portfolio Internal Policies and its sanctions, in case any violation is identified and confirmed.
- Ensures AIESEC's proactiveness, fairness and reduction in the level of risk associated with APIP.

Policies Applicable

- EwA Principles, remote criteria, product principles, product minimums, LLC principles, AEPP principles, Safety Guidelines, ER principles, Brand policies and Platform policies.

Violations Criteria

- For each violation, there is a level of severity assigned, based on the number of risks the violation is related to.
 1. Violations related to 1 type of risks are considered severity level 1.
 2. Violations related to 2 types of risks are considered severity level 2.
 3. Violations related to 3 types of risks are considered severity level 3.
 4. Violations related to 4 types of risks are considered severity level 4.
 5. Violations related to 5 types of risks are considered severity level 5.

Sanctions Criteria

- The final responsible to apply the sanctions are the ICB Chair and or ECB Chair, depending on the level of audit.
- For ECB Audits, the ECB Chair is responsible to define the timeline of implementation of each sanction and how they will be applicable, taking into consideration the recommendation from ICB.
- For ICB Audits, the sanctions must follow the guideline written in this document, considering the criteria of the ICB audit system.
- The violation “not filling SOGA and or GFB survey” is the only violation that will not follow the sanctions table. The sanctions applicable to this violation are related to membership criteria: the entity will lose membership automatically by not submitting it for ILMs.
- To pass successfully the audit process performed by ICB the entity must comply with:
 - 1.Zero violations of level 5 or 4
 - 2.Maximum of 5 violation of level 3
 - 3.Maximum of 5 violations of level 2
 - 4.Maximum of 5 violations of level 1
 - 5.Submit at least 80% of documents requested by ICB.

- Violations level of severity 1, 2 and 3 - no sanctions applicable, but still included as criteria to pass or not pass in an ICB audit system.
- Violation level of severity 4 - notified, if not solved within 1 month, all operations related to that violation will be freezed until the issue is resolved.
- Violations level of severity 5 - notified, 7 working days after the notification, operations related to that violation will be freezed until the issue is resolved.
- All entities will still receive their ICB Audit Report as a result of the process, containing all violations that were identified and an action plan to follow.
- If they don't pass the audit, they will receive an automatic mandate to report in the next legislation

1. Delayed Salary Payment to EP
 - 7–30 days late: Salary must be paid immediately.
 - More than 30 days late: Salary must be paid plus a 2% daily fine of the unpaid amount.
2. EP Gets Deported
 - Due to EP's own mistake or government issue: AIESEC is not liable.
