session objectives.

What is qualification

How to promote better our value proposition

Understand if our products are viable to the stakeholders

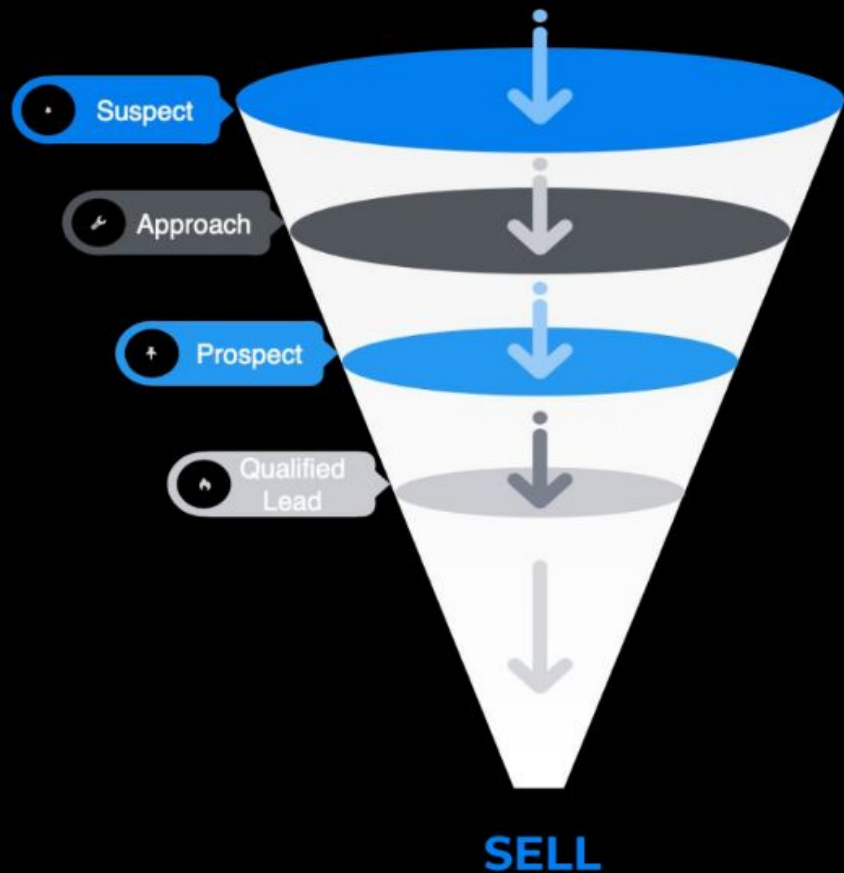

You just had a meeting.

Company seemed really interested in. They put many questions. The meeting was long so everything seems well.

But they ghosted/rejected you after the proposal was sent.

SALES FUNNEL

Suspect: Identifying a new opportunity but not knowing if it's a need or not.

Approach: The first time you talk to the suspect.

Prospect: You've discussed the need with someone but haven't qualified it.

Qualified Lead: You know there's a need and willingness to work for it, an available budget, and the decision-making process.

Sales qualification is the act of evaluating potential prospects to determine whether they possess the characteristics that make them a good fit for your product or service.

What is the unique, added value
AIESEC can offer to a company?

VALUE PROPOSITION

noun [C] • MARKETING

UK  US

a reason given by a seller for buying their particular product or service, based on the value it offers customers:

LA MÉTHODE CAB

Caractéristiques

- Description factuelle du produit ou du service : poids, taille, couleur, composition, puissance, durée...
- Liste des fonctionnalités techniques : « fait ceci, comme cela... ».

Avantages

- Transformer chaque caractéristique en avantage positif
- La différence du produit avec la concurrence : « permet de, est plus que... »

Bénéfices

- Adapter l'avantage au contexte spécifique du client : « qu'est-ce qu'il va lui apporter à LUI »
- Toucher le prospect, le concerner, l'émouvoir...

C.A.B Framework

The framework aids sellers to dissect their products and understand better how to promote it to companies as well as give contra arguments when needed.

Characteristics

-factual, concrete information about your product (ex: YSF- the event will be held physically on 25th of May in the X venue, having a capacity of 300 people, 18-25 range etc.)

Advantages

-the general value proposition of your product (ex: through YSF companies can have access to a large pool of people, gain visibility in the market and bring an impact over sustainability)

Benefits

-specific added value companies gain when buying a package (ex: by buying access to a networking space in YSF, you can get access to 300 people with 150 CVs that you can store as well as promotion on our SM channels that makes your brand visible to 250K young people) products are qualified for a company?

B.A.N.T Framework

B

BUDGET

DO THEY HAVE THE ABILITY TO SPEND?

AUTHORITY

ARE YOU TALKING TO THE DECISION MAKER?

N

NEED

DO THEY HAVE AN URGENT PROBLEM?

T

TIMING

WHEN WILL THEY NEED YOUR SOLUTION?

B-Budget

Do you currently have a budget allocated for this solution, or will you have to make a case?

How much have you spent on similar solutions in the past?

Is X price range within your budget?

Do you hold the authority to sign off?

A-Authority

Is there anyone else you would like to include in these discussions?

What does the decision making process look like?

Who is included in the decision making process? (LinkedIn 6-7 persons)

What are their goals? What would they gain from this solution?

N-Needs

Can you give me an example of what challenges your agency/team is facing? Please guide me through this process

What are your biggest priorities, if you had to mention the 3 most important ones?

What are your business growth goals of this year?

What has prevented you from trying to solve the problem?

Who will use this solution?

What does success look like to you and your colleagues/superiors involved?

T-Timeline

What is the timeline to make this decision?

How long has the company faced these challenges?

What's your ideal timeline to have this product implemented?

Is this a challenge you'd like to solve in the next 3-6 months or a nice to have?

Good to have in mind

When buying a product, each company needs to have at least 3 competitors from where to choose. The back office will always test the ROI of the partnership so try to understand during the funnel how you can be their best option.
